LEO & MEO Broadband Constellations

At least 15 companies have declared their intent to develop broadband satellite constellations in low Earth orbit (LEO) or medium Earth orbit (MEO), according to Northern Sky Research. Most of these companies intend to have their first-generation systems deployed within five years. O3b, which is nearing completion of a 20-satellite constellation begun in 2013, will add seven mPower second-generation broadband satellites starting in 2021.
